

UNIVERSITY CONTINUING EDUCATION

Bring your university's expertise beyond campus.

Offer non-credit short courses to working professionals, alumni and employer teams through an academy bearing your university's name. Learners can take one course or follow a learning path towards a certificate your university awards.

courses

monthly active learners

5 published academies • 5 administrator seats • Free Creator Launchpad workshops

Open your first course to the public

Choose a subject employers or alumni already ask about. Invite one faculty member to shape the material into a short course for people who will use it at work.

ACADEMY FEATURE	HOW YOU CAN USE IT
Branded academy & links	Give alumni offices, employers and professional associations a university-branded course link to share with their communities.
Course builder & media	Turn a faculty demonstration into short lessons with field examples, readings and a practical task.
External enrolment	Set entry requirements and fees. The university collects payment directly and enrols individual learners or an employer's group.
Discussions & Q&A	Let professionals compare local practice with peers and ask a lecturer how an idea applies in their workplace.
Assessment & progress	Ask for evidence of practice, such as a field report. Faculty can review the work against criteria set by the university.
Learning paths & certificates	Link related courses into a programme and define the work required for the university's non-credit certificate of completion.

Make the award clear before enrolment

Name the issuing university, list the completion requirements and state that the course carries no academic credit. The university decides who earns its certificate.

What the plan includes

Academy capacity	5 published academies, 5 administrator seats and up to 1,000 unique monthly active learners.
Courses & storage	Unlimited courses and 200 GB of file storage.
Reporting & support	Enhanced progress reporting and priority support.
Learning paths	Multi-course certification learning paths and academy-branded course certificates.

Professional is one option for a faculty-led pilot with multi-course learning paths. Discuss Institutional if several faculties need more academies, administrators or reporting capacity.

LEARNER VIEW

My Learning

An extension officer can return to a lesson after a site visit and complete the field assignment when the observations are fresh.

Desktop & Tablet	Open lessons and assessments in a browser.
PWA	Install the web app for access from the home screen.
Mobile App	Revisit supported text, audio and resources offline. Hosted video generally needs an internet connection.

A short course for extension officers

A faculty of agriculture offers Post-harvest Handling to extension officers through a growers' association. The lecturer opens with a field question. Where do the tomatoes first show signs of bruising?

Independent field study

An officer studies a handling demonstration, observes a batch from picking to collection and records where damage first appears.

Employer-sponsored group

A cooperative enrols a team in the same course. Members compare field notes online, then bring their observations to a practical session with the lecturer.

FROM FIELD NOTES TO A BETTER QUESTION

Officer	"We found bruised tomatoes at collection. How can we tell when the damage happened?"
Peer	"We checked the same crates before loading and again when they arrived."
Lecturer	"Use those two observations in your field report. Which stage would you investigate next, and why?"

The university can add Storage and Transport to the path. Learners who complete all three courses and meet its assessment criteria can earn its non-credit Certificate of Completion in Post-harvest Management.
